Associate Membership

If there is more than one group entity in Germany the membership fee of the group will be based on the group entities' total assets plus (in the case of investment management companies) the assets under management or (in the case of a financial services company) the value of the assets sold in Germany. Therefore, the additional individual companies of the group will be offered an associate membership without the right of an additional vote and without an annual fee. It is intended that all group entities join the Association.
